New York Stock Market

New York. February 17.—Another wave of selling bore down prices of stocks to-day. The market was nervous, and at times acute weakness developed. Pessimistic feeling has become so widesp ead, owing to a variety of well recognized influences, that the present tendency to exaggerate the importance of any new development which is construct unfavorably.

The resolution of to-day of representations from abroad of J. P. Morgan's illness illustrated the effect of new bearish intuences, coming from those who have weakened the speculative position. The reports gave traders a scare and those on the long side hastened to unload stocks at the opening.

hastened to unlord stocks at the openlag.

The effect of this selling was strengthened by a vigorous bear movement and prices broke abruptly with wide openings it the favorite stocks.
Steel gold all the way from 62 to 60 7-8
in different parts of the excited crowd of traders around the steel post in the first minute after trading began.
Iteassuring statements as to Mr.
Morgan's condition checked the selling and the market rose slowly. In the late afternoon there was a renowed outburst of selling, and a number of stocks reached the low point of the day. The bottom level of the session showed material declines for practically all the important stocks. Selling of steel was heavy, and the price went under 61. A number of leading issues reached the lowest prices for over a year.

The crisis in M-xico and fears of a

The crisis in N-xico and fears of a strike of firemen contributed largely to the market's unsettlement. London and the Continent were reported early self-crs of 10,000 shares, chiefly Canadian Pacitic. Union Pacific and Reading. Later London bourht some 5,000 shares of Union Pacific and the coppers.

Jongs were weak and active. Some issues lost a point. Total sales, parvalue, $2,600,000.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York Pebruary II. The cutton market was even more nervous and unsettled than it had been toward the close of last week, and the close was barely steady at a pet decline of from Early points. The opening was easy at a decline of Soilt points unser active selling, which was supposed to be for both accounts. Lower cables than expected, unsettled pointcal conditions, both an Europe and Mexico, the continuation of labor disputes in Eastern railroad circles and depression in figureal centree, all appear to be factors in the selling movement. Moreover, bearish sentiment was encouraged by the official forecast for a week of fair, warmer weather in the South This was expected to permit more rapid progress with farm work, which in connection with the weaker tone of the fairne market which made the basis for bearish predictions of more general spot laundation. Private cables from Liverpool, altiributing the decline there to heavy continents, selling and freer spot offerings from the South of caster prices belief the unsettled sentiment as to the studiety of Southern holders, and while there was some baying here credited to trade interest, every little raily found increased offerings. During the carly afternon report of lower Southern spot markets began to come in particularly from New Orleans and the market, which after a very active vary session had quieted down somewhat again became very weak and unsettled unier a renewal of general selling. Closing prices were at practically from New Orleans raid of the disturbed stock market which sell-many of the Wall Street houses appeared to be sellers during the sifternoon while many of the Wall Street houses appeared to be sellers during the sifternoon while many of the wall street houses appeared to be sellers during the site of our large to the disturbed stock market and conflicting reports as to the health of J. P. Morgan.

A Bank Account

There is a certain feeling of security and independence in the possession of a bank account. To know that you always have a certain sum of money on which to rely in time of need-to know that you will have to look to others for support when in need-that, indeed, is a grateful feeling.

A small amount deposited at regular intervals in
